

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Game Goes On.

Quite lonely now the hammock swings
Upon the wide, wind-swept veranda.
While in the parlor sweetly sings
Miranda.

And at her side, with back a-crook,
To drink song sentiments that carry,
With eyes that have a rapturous look,
Leans Harry.

So thus we see, without a doubt,
The game goes on, for there's no reason
Why Cupid should care aught about
The season.

Boadicea.

By WILLIAM COWPER.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

When the British warrior queen,
Bleeding from the Roman rods,
Sought, with an indignant mien,
Counsel of her country's gods,
Sage beneath the spreading oak
Sat the Druid, hoary chief;
Every burning word he spoke
Full of rage, and full of grief.

"Princess! if our aged eyes
Weep upon thy matchless wrongs,
'Tis because resentment flies
All the terrors of our tongues.

"Rome shall perish—write that word
In the blood that she has spilt;
Perish, hopeless and abhorred,
Deep in ruin as in guilt.

"Rome, for empire far renowned,
Tramples on a thousand states;
Soon her pride shall kiss the ground—
Hark! the Gaul is at her gates!

"Other Romans shall arise,
Heedless of a soldier's name;
Sounds, not arms, shall win the prize,
Harmony the path to fame.

"Then the progeny that springs
From the forests of our land,
Arm'd with thunder, clad with wings,
Shall a wider world command.

"Regions Caesar never knew
Thy posterity shall sway;
Where his eagles never flew,
None invincible as they."

Such the bard's prophetic words,
Pregnant with celestial fire,
Bending as he swept the chords
Of his sweet but awful lyre.

She, with all a monarch's pride,
Felt them in her bosom glow;
Rush'd to battle, fought, and died,
Dying hurl'd them at the foe.

"Ruffians, pitiless as proud,
Heaven awards the vengeance due;
Empire is on us bestow'd,
Shame and ruin wait for you."

TO WIDEN AVENUE.

Finance Committee Determines to Recommend Action.

The Finance Committee of the Council has determined to recommend to that body the passage of the preamble and resolution introduced at the last meeting and referred to that committee directing the City Attorney to acquire by gift, condemnation or otherwise sufficient land to widen Monument Avenue from Allison to Cedar Street to a uniform width of 140 feet.

The resolution does not call for any appropriation of money, but must be acted upon by the two branches of the Council before it becomes effective. The gentlemen who have been securing concessions of five feet on each side of the street from property owners by securing to them five feet in the alley in the rear and to make up this sum by securing the same width on the other side of the alley, estimate that it will in no event exceed $20,000 in cost, and it may cost almost nothing. The resolution is recommended, however, as a precedent, but is merely the formal procedure directing the City Attorney to acquire, etc. The Council must pass a separate measure appropriating whatever sum may be necessary in the event it is finally determined to acquire the property.

AGAINST FANCY POSTALS.

German Government Excludes Them From the Mails.

Postmaster Royal E. Cahill has received the following letter from Washington, which is self-explanatory:

"Your attention is called to the following extract (translation) from a letter of the German Government to the United States Government dated November 15, 1906:

"For some time the German office has received in the mails from New York a large number of illustrated post cards bearing raised sentiments of universal duty. Such cards are excluded from circulation in the German Empire of Germany, because experience has shown that this material, which consists of small, thin, small particles of metal, etc., is easily detached from the cards during distribution and easily enters the respiratory organs of the employees.

"Furthermore, the sharp particles are apt to cause injury to the fingers of the employees, and damage to the other correspondence. For the same reason, and in view of the provisions of Article 18 of the German Postal Law, the circulation of the cards in question in the German Empire is prohibited.

"The German exchange office has, therefore, been instructed to return to origin all such cards received from the United States, and to cause notice of the foregoing to be sent to the post office, giving it as much publicity as practicable.

"I am very respectfully,
"Your obedient servant,"
"M. M. BROOKS,
"Superintendent of Foreign Mails."

SMALLPOX HERE NOT SPEEDING

Authorities Taking Precaution to Make Unusual Outbreak Impossible.

HOOK-WORM DISEASE APPEARS

Three Cases Have Been Discovered in This City and Manchester.

Dr. E. C. Levy, health officer of the city of Richmond, yesterday confirmed the report that there were two cases of smallpox in the city, one of these being Little David Schopt, of No. 802 West Broad Street, a six-year-old child of Mrs. J. T. Schopt, and the other a negro man at No. 509 Catherine Street.

The Schopt child had not been vaccinated, and the mother was violently opposed to such preventive measure. The child and mother were sent to the hospital for infectious diseases, along with another child, and signs were posted on the premises from which they were removed. The negro patient has left the city.

Dr. Levy stated that it was nothing unusual for smallpox to make its appearance in the State at this season, numerous cases being reported here every year. He declared further that reports from all over the country indicated an unusual prevalence of smallpox, and suggested that the people be awakened to the duty of co-operating with the authorities to prevent a spread of the malady. The health department has sent out letters to the management of all the large industrial plants of the city, urging them to safeguard their own interests and the city's health by requiring the vaccination of their employees. Dr. Levy has just and examination made of the public school children of the city, and has received sixteen thousand cards reporting thereon. Every precaution has been or is being taken to forestall any unusual outbreak of the disease in this city.

Hook-Worm Disease.

Three cases of what is known as the hook-worm disease have been discovered in this city or Manchester. A boy on Oregon Hill is one of the patients, another is in Manchester and a third patient is a student at the Medical College of Virginia. Dr. Vander Hoef, formerly of the Johns Hopkins University, now an instructor at the Medical College, is taking considerable interest in the new disease, and is looking for cases as they may appear.

The presence of the malady is usually detected in the attenuated growth of the person affected, and in the lack of physical and mental energy which accompanies it. When a suspected case of the disease is located scientific examination is made, which will positively disclose the existence or non-existence of the disease. The ailment is curable, but unless arrested is likely to prove fatal ultimately. It is quite prevalent in certain sections of the more southern States.

The report of the health officer for October has been sent to the printer, but has not yet been received for issue. It shows the death rate among whites to be 14 per 1,000, while that among the colored population is 22 per 1,000.
